An opportunity not to be missed!

María José Lemaitre
Executive Director
CINDA

CINDA (Centro Interuniversitario de Desarrollo), in cooperation with INQAAHE (International Network for Quality Assurance Agencies in Higher Education) cordially invite you to be part of this extraordinary opportunity with focus on the development of higher education for the 21st century in Santiago, Chile.

We live in a time of reforms and structural change. Around the world, including our Latin-American region, governments and institutions advocate changes in higher education systems, to provide effective, inclusive, quality higher education.

Since licensing and accreditation standards/schemes were introduced and implemented more than two decades ago, quality underpins the development of higher education and is at the center of social concerns. We have our shares of trial and errors, learnt from our mistakes and achieved many of our goals. It is a great time, to reflect review, consolidate and plan for the future, in partnership with our global partners, who can help us have a wider view.

Susanna Karakhanyan
President INQAAHE

The International Conference on Diversity, Quality and Improvement offers a trusted platform for knowledge-sharing and for like-minded quality assurance enthusiasts to hold stimulating discussions. Experts from quality assurance, higher education institutions and policy makers, from Latin America and other regions of the world, are invited to share their views on the current challenges we are confronting. The format of the event will include keynote and short presentation with breakout groups for participants to hold theme-focused discussions. Outcomes of the Conference will be published and presented at the Regional Conference for Higher Education, CRES 2018!
