

Vision

The vision of the NQAAE is to build a transparent, reliable and internationally recognised system of quality assurance in education in Uzbekistan, ensuring that educational institutions provide high-quality learning, research and training aligned with national development priorities and global standards. The Agency aims to contribute to the international competitiveness of Uzbekistan's education system, enhance public trust in educational institutions, and support the development of a knowledge-based economy.

Mission

The mission of the Agency is to ensure and continuously improve the quality of education through independent, transparent and evidence-based external evaluation of educational organisations and programmes. The Agency fulfils this mission by:

- implementing a comprehensive system of institutional and programme accreditation;
- developing modern methodologies and evaluation criteria aligned with international practices;
- promoting quality culture and internal quality assurance mechanisms within educational organisations;
- conducting analytical studies, surveys and monitoring related to education quality;
- strengthening international cooperation and recognition of Uzbekistan's accreditation system.
